MODULE 1 - INTRODUCTION TO BASIC SDS WRITING

This module is an introductory training day on the compilation of safety data sheets (SDSs) for substances and mixtures that are classifiable under the CLP Regulation (EC) 1272/2008.

Please note

The module focuses on the requirements for SDS content brought about by the amendment to the REACH Regulations.

Who should attend?

This one day training event is a basic introduction to the preparation and writing of safety data sheets. It is specifically designed for those entering this area for the first time and covers the very basic concepts required for those new to writing SDSs.

Benefits of attending

Attendance on this series of modules will ensure that your SDSs meet the increasing expectations of both your customers and the regulators. To ensure the most effective training with optimum involvement in participative exercises, there will be a limit of 14 on the number of students.

IOSH members are entitled to include this module in their continuing professional development records.

Comments from previous delegates on this training module

“Large wealth of knowledge from presenter and deputy. Large topic coverage.”

“Very thorough insight into all 16 sections”

“Good break down of the content needed and plenty of extra sources given.”

“Good format with breaks for exercises, flowed well.”

What you will learn

This module will introduce participants to the basics of writing a safety data sheet and will include sessions covering the following topics:

- How a newcomer to the job can make sense of the requirements for SDSs
- Introduction to the legislation behind SDSs
- What information is needed for each section of an SDS and where to obtain that information
- How to use that information
- A logical approach to writing an SDS

Exercises will be held throughout the day to assist in the understanding of the concepts introduced.
